

Join us at the Scottish National gallery for an evening of food, drink and art

We invite you to experience the outstanding collection of historic Scottish art housed in twelve newly opened galleries. Here you can view the work of pioneering artists from 1800 to 1945, including works from William McTaggart, Anne Redpath, Pheobe Anna Traquair, Charles Rennie Mackintosh and the Glasgow Boys.

Afterwards, you can indulge in an array of Scottish dishes in the award-winning restaurant, produced using high-quality locally sourced ingredients.

Schedule of events:

19:30 Arrival – welcome drinks and canapes

19:45 Introduction to the art from Tricia Allerston. The galleries will then be open for one hour.

20:15 Dinner – an array of Scottish-inspired dishes including cheese and charcuterie stations

22:00 – 22:30 Guest departure

How to find us:

Located on The Mound, Edinburgh EH2 2EL: Google Maps

Please enter via Gate 6 on the map below, on the corner of Waverley Bridge and Market Street. This entrance will be illuminated, and staff will be on hand to direct you to the venue. Please avoid the Princes Street entrance because Christmas market stalls are still being assembled.

